

PRAYAS, JAIPUR

OUR WORK

Wipro Cares is supporting Prayas in running an Inclusive Education School at Raja Park for underprivileged children and an Intervention Program in Government Schools which aims at integrating children with special needs into mainstream education.

IMPACT

- Inclusive education for approximately 160 children, including children with disabilities, from nearby slums at Prayas' Raja Park Model School (Nursery to Class VIII)
- Inclusive education in 12 government schools so that children with special needs can study with non-disabled peers in neighborhood schools
- Free home-based special education and physiotherapy that enables children with severe disability to perform activities of daily living and attend school independently or with minimal help
- Campaigns to increase awareness of disability and its management within families of children with disability
- Advocacy for education of children with disability and promotion of inclusive education within the community

DETAILS

Prayas Society was established in 1996. It provides multiple services for the benefit of underprivileged children with disability in Jaipur, including one special school, three inclusive schools, support for inclusive education in government schools, home-based services for profoundly disabled children and a resource center to train special educators.

By supporting Prayas, we are enabling the children to avail the benefits of education, whether in inclusive schools, special schools or at home, based on each child's individual needs.
